RURAL AFTERSCHOOL CONFERENCE

Many of our nation's rural or mountain areas struggle to provide or create afterschool and summer education programming, even though research shows that such programs are critical to a young person's future success.

The PwrHrs Rural Afterschool Conference has a vision to help build programs where none exist, strengthen existing programs, and build a lasting network of educators who can share information, gain expertise, and collectively build a roadmap to support the quality and sustainability of afterschool programming in our rural communities.

It will feature keynote presentations from experts in the field, participatory sessions, and integrative workshops led by The Grove Consultants International to provide all attendees with an actionable roadmap to take back to their respective communities.

The conference is hosted by YouthPower, in collaboration with Afterschool Alliance, Colorado Afterschool Partnership, and the National Afterschool Association.

ABOUT YOUTHPOWER365

YouthPower365 is a 501(c)3 nonprofit organization with an extraordinary history of serving children and families throughout Eagle County. From the inception of our organization, YouthPower365 staff and leadership have studied our ever-changing resort community to provide optimal services to the working families who struggle every day to make ends meet and to raise educated, well-rounded children.

YouthPower365 has grown in both size and services over the course of our history to respond to the growing and changing demand for high quality support services. We now have 17 full time staff, employ 168 teachers in the after school programs, and utilize 200+ volunteers. Today, we operate a cradle-to-career pipeline focused on overcoming the opportunity gap faced by many of our youth and families.
